Empathy Map Canvas:

Says

What have we heard them say?
What can we imagine them saying?

- I have hundreds of business cards in a drawer I never look at.
- "I can never remember where I met this person or what we talked about
- "I need to find all my developer contacts quickly — I wish I could just filter by a tag.
- I meant to follow up last week but I forgot who gave me their card

Thinks

What are their wants, needs, hopes, and dreams?
What other thoughts might influence their behavior?

- Which contacts should I reach out to for my new freelance project?
- I hope I don't embarrass myself by forgetting someone's name at the next event.
- There must be a smarter way to organise this without paying $50/month for Salesforce.
- I wish I could tag contacts like social media — Work, Investor, Designer, Friend.

Does

What behavior have we observed?
What can we imagine them doing?

- Keeps a messy mix of contacts across their phone, email, and random sticky notes.
- Manually types contact info into a phone right after meeting someone at an event.
- Scrolls through entire contact list to find someone instead of using search.
- Uses LinkedIn as a contact book — but forgets to write down conversation context.

Feels

What are their fears, frustrations, and anxieties?
What other feelings might influence their behavior?

- Overwhelmed — too many contacts scattered across too many places with no system.
- Embarrassed — forgot a contact's name or details at an important moment.
- Anxious — afraid of missing a follow-up opportunity that could have led to a deal.
- Frustrated — can't find a contact quickly when on a call and under pressure.
